INDEPENDENT.—The Montana Democrat, in an article addressed to the business men of Montana, says:

It is a fixed fact, that we can produce all the wheat needed for the supply of our population with flour. There is at present an immense stock of Salt Lake flour in the Territory, and it is being sold at a price less than to it cost to freight it here. During the last week, sales were made as low as seven dollars and fifty cents a sack. Such sales as this ought, and perhaps will, have the effect to deter any one from bringing flour from Salt Lake to Montana as a speculation. In the Gallatin valley there are thousands of bushels of wheat unsold, and which will be made into flour so soon as the mills can be got to grinding. Therefore, we feel confident that no business man will invest his money in flour at Salt Lake to bring to this market next season. The only source from which flour will be brought here, will be from the Mormons, who have formed an association for trading in their own products. This association flooded Virginia City and Helena with flour, and virtually crushed the farmers of Montana, and now thousands of bushels of wheat are on hand without a market.

In view of the fact that the leaders of the Mormons are advising their people not to trade with the Gentiles of Utah, would it not be just to our own interests for our merchants to adopt the policy not to encourage trade with Salt Lake, and thereby build up the agricultural interest of our own people. We feel satisfied that there can be produced here at home, all the flour, grain and provisions needed for the support of our own people, and there is no necessity to import anything except it be bacon, and in a few years hogs enough will be raised to supply that want.

ABOUT three o'clock on Saturday afternoon an alarm of fire was given from the corner of Shelby street and Broadway, caused by the burning of a bed in a two-story brick house, on Clay street, between Broadway and Laurel, belonging to Frank Loefel, the upper story of which was occupied by two German women, named Carolina and Ann C. Liebert. When the fire was discovered the neighbors attempted to enter that portion of the house occupied by them, but found the doors fastened. Upon forcing open the doors and entering, the two women were found in one of the rooms, standing in a perfectly nude state upon the bed, which was in flames. They were dragged from the bed, not, however, till one of them was badly burned upon the leg, and the fire extinguished. An investigation of their singular conduct elicited the fact that they were deranged. They are both unmarried, and are represented as being hard-working and industrious. Nothing unusual was noticed in their manner until a few days ago, when they became impressed with the idea that some one was trying to poison them, and sent a quantity of milk they had purchased to a physician for analysis. The assurance of the physician that there was no poison in the milk failed to quiet their apprehensions; and so firmly were they convinced that they were the victims of a conspiracy that they refused to eat or drink anything; and it is reported by the neighbors that they burned up several hundred dollars, because, as they said, it was poison. On Saturday afternoon they piled the furniture against the doors, divested themselves of every article of clothing, got upon the bed and set fire to it, and remained in this position until discovered by the neighbors. The women were arrested and placed in the Clay street station, where they remained until yesterday, when they were taken away by their relatives. —Louisville Courier, January 11th.

THE Acts of Congress revoking the Amnesty power of the President, and regulating the elective franchise in the Territories, have been officially published—a speedy answer to the demand of Congress that the Secretary of State should inform it into what pigeon-hole or waste-paper basket the laws of the United States had been thrown. The publication of these Acts, will not, however, entitle Mr. Seward to reply to the inquiry of the House merely that they have been published. He is bound to show by whom they were so long suppressed. This is but the dilatory performance of a duty; it is not the explanation of a breach of truth.—New York Tribune, Feb. 4.

A PLAIN-SPEAKING EPITAPH.—At Northaven, in Shetland, a wild spot washed by the sea, the fishermen have made a churchyard, and a solitary tomb-stone rears its head with the following inscription: "Donald Robertson, born in January, 1785; died 4th June, 1848. He was a peaceable, quiet man, and to all appearances a sincere Christian. His death was much regretted, which was caused by the stupidity of Laurence Tullock, of Colchester, who sold him nitre instead of Epsom salts, by which he was killed three hours after taking a dose of it."

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The following dispatch is from the Alta California:

Visalia, February 11.

Mr. A. G. Harrold while out hunting with his brother on the 6th inst., was accidentally killed by the discharge of a shot-gun in his own hands. From the position of the body and the gun it is supposed he had dismounted for some purpose, and after remounting, endeavored to reach his gun, when it discharged. Mr. Harrold leaves a wife, having been married but a few months.

A new company, with a large capital, called the Woodward & Barton Overland Transportation Company, has been organized in St. Joseph, for the transportation of freight to the Western Territories. The company have established depots at Junction City on the Eastern Division of the Union Pacific Railroad, and at the terminus of the Omaha Branch, and have made arrangements for carrying freight over all the railroads in the country.

DECEASED.—The news has arrived that W. M. Knox, formerly a resident of this city, died at Omaha on the 28th of November last. At the time of his death he was a First Lieutenant in the 18th United States Infantry. He was in the 32d year of his age. Knox was well known here, having filled several positions in county offices as deputy. Sacramento to Bee.

SOME PAIN.—While a physician was working over a young lady who had succumbed and fainted in the streets of Zanesville, it was found necessary to remove eleven pairs of woolen stocking legs and one pair of hose before warmth could restore circulation through her pedal extremities.

The Pacific Railroad—The Prospect.

From an interesting and extended report, accompanied with a map, in the New York Tribune, we cull a number of facts bearing on the present condition and future prospects of the Pacific Railroad. The main stem of this great work from Omaha, Nebraska, to Sacramento, California, is being built, with Government aid, by two Companies, the Union Pacific on the East, and the Central Pacific on the West. Gen. John A. Dix is President of the former, and ex-Gov. Leland Stanford of the latter. By the Congressional charter, each Company will own and run just as much as it can build. And as they receive a certain number of acres of land and thousands of dollars for each mile built, there is, as we have said before, a lively race between them to see which shall first reach Salt Lake City.

Each Company receives in aid per cent. 30 year Government bonds, for every mile of road constructed, as follows: Over the plains, and where the route is level and the grade light, $16,000; among the foot-hills, $32,000, and over the Rocky and Sierra Nevada Mountains, $48,000. Though called a loan, these bonds are in reality and practically a donation. They are issued as fast as a section of twenty miles is finished, inspected and approved by Government Commissioners. Each Company also receives a patent for 12,800 acres of land per mile along its route.

The California Central has completed its road to Cisco, a distance of 93 miles from Sacramento, and within 12 miles of the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. In climbing these mountains the Company has reached an elevation of 7,000 feet above tide water (Sacramento) in a distance of one hundred miles, and but one grade of 116 feet to the mile, the maximum allowed by the charter. This heavy grade is only for a distance of three and a-half miles, and they believe they can run passenger trains upon it at the rate of 25 miles an hour, and freight trains 12 miles per hour. Nowhere else does the grade exceed 106 feet to the mile. They contemplate tunneling, in all, through the Sierras about 2,400 feet. After reaching the Sierras the heaviest work is accomplished, and the line passes down the eastern slope, along the Truckee river and across the plain to this city, by an easy grade and with light work. Ere the Union Pacific reaches the rough work in the Black hills and in the Rocky Mountains, the Central Pacific will be across the mountains and rapidly coursing over the comparatively level desert between the Sierras and the Jordan. The latter Company have now in their employ no less than 12,000 workmen, principally Chinese. The Company are sanguine of having the road in full operation to the Humboldt, 250 miles from Sacramento, during the present year, and to Salt Lake City in 1869.

The Union Pacific have their cars now running 305 miles west of Omaha, and early in the Spring will continue the work of grading and laying rails. They expect to reach the Rocky Mountains (517 miles) during the ensuing Summer, and, if Congress will give them permission, to commence work at Salt Lake, and progress both eastward and westward till their two ends meet, completing the connection between Salt Lake and New York.

The distance from Sacramento to Salt Lake along the supposed route is about 625 miles; from Omaha to Salt Lake, 1,035. When it is contemplated how much has already been done towards building the Trans-Continental Railroad, and how little is really left to be done, we may now indeed begin to count upon its early and certain completion. The distance from New York to Sacramento by the railroad route is 3,129 miles, of which 1,887 miles has been completed and is now in successful operation, leaving but 1,252 miles yet to be built. If the two Companies should, in their rivalry, build altogether at the rate of three miles per day, the gap could be closed in 418 days, that is, in less than a year and a-half. We propose, however, to give them two full years, and then take a trip to the Ocean on the completed Great Pacific Road.

There is a uniform gauge established by law upon all the Pacific railroads of four feet eight and a-half inches. This corresponds with the gauge of most of the Eastern roads, and will give an unbroken gauge from New York to San Francisco.

A DISPATCH dated Petaluma, California, February 14th, says: "A man named T. F. McKeon, who kept a small store on Tomales bay, was murdered last night, and the store burned to conceal the murder. His bones were found in the ruins this morning." Another dispatch from the same place, dated the 15th, says: "The murderers of McKeon were captured at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. They proved to be three Bodega Indians. The citizens got on their trail early in the day, and, after a long chase, surrounded them. They showed fight as they were approached and fired at the citizens, when the fire was returned by about a dozen men, killing one of the Indians instantly and desperately wounding the other two. They then surrendered. The one killed is an old desperado, who four years ago killed McPhelan, the keeper of a store on the same spot where McKeon was killed. He escaped at that time, and has never been seen since until now. The wounded Indians had $150 in coin on their persons, and a quantity of goods which they had taken from the store. They acknowledge killing McKeon, and also implicate two Mexicans, whom they say took $200 each and left them. Deputy Sheriff Austin passed through here this afternoon with the two wounded Indians, en route for San Rafael."—Virginia Enterprise.

Memphis, February 20.

The Avalanche this morning says the steamer David White, which left New Orleans on Thursday night for Louisville, with 100 passengers and 500 tons of freight for Nashville and Louisville, exploded her boilers twelve miles below Memphis during the night. The bill was [illegible] question [illegible] bill as amended [illegible]

Randall, of Penn., moved to reconsider the vote, saying that he intended to move to strike out the [illegible] eration was carried.

Randall moved to refer the bill to the Committee on Banking, with [illegible] report back immediately the first section only. Carried.

Randall instantly reported the bill back from that committee with the second section stricken out.

Hooper moved to table the bill. Rejected—59 against 95.

The bill then passed—95 to 65.

Several reports of a local character were made from the Naval Committee, and acted on, when the House took a recess.

New York, February 21.

Wall street is unsettled by the aspect of affairs at Washington. The supply of 5-20's of 1862, available for export, it appears are almost completely exhausted, and the first issues of 1865 are consequently in demand. The Treasury has suspended sales of the new issue of the latter, owing to the large amount of 7-30's awaiting conversion. This is going forward with a rate which will dispose of the whole series before maturity.

The difference of 8 to 10 per cent. between quotations of 5-20's in London and Paris may be explained from the fact that bonds are estimated in the Paris bourse on the basis of 5 francs to one dollar, while the actual value of one dollar in exchange is 5 francs 10 sous to 5f. 11s.

Memento of "Old Tom Benton."

The Salem, Oregon, correspondent of the Sacramento Union says:

I think you will agree with me that the following document, which has never been made public, is worthy of the honor, though twenty years have almost elapsed since it was written. There is a great deal of the "Tom Benton" about it, and there was a great deal of the stubborn idea of right and strength to battle for it in "Old Tom Benton." The original is entirely in his own handwriting, and deserves to be carefully cherished among the "archives of Oregon:"

LETTER FROM SENATOR BENTON TO THE PEOPLE OF OREGON.

Washington City, March, 1847.

My friends (for such I may call many of you from personal acquaintance, and all of you from my thirty years devotion to the interests of your country), I think it right to make this communication to you at the present moment when the adjournment of Congress, without passing the bill for your government and protection, seems to have left you in a state of abandonment by your mother country. But such is not the case. You are not abandoned, nor will you be denied protection unless you admit slavery. I, a man of the South and a slaveholder, tell you this. The House of Representatives, as early as the middle of January, had passed the bill to give you a Territorial Government, and in that bill had sanctioned and legalized your Provisional Organic Act, one of the clauses of which forever prohibited the existence of slavery in Oregon. An amendment from the Senate Committee, to which this bill was referred, proposed to abrogate that prohibition, and in the delays and vexations to which that amendment gave rise, the whole bill was laid upon the table and lost for the session. This will be a great disappointment to you and a real calamity; already five years without law or legal institutions for the preservation of life, liberty and property, and now doomed to wait a year longer. This is a strange and anamalous condition almost incredible to contemplate and most critical to endure.

A colony of freemen 4,000 miles from the metropolitan Government, and without law or government to preserve them!

But do not be alarmed or desperate. You will not be outlawed for not admitting slavery. Your fundamental Act against that institution, copied from the ordinance of 1787 (the work of the great men of the South in the great day of the South, prohibiting slavery in a Territory far less Northern than yours), will not be abrogated! Nor is that the intention of the prime mover of the amendment. Upon the record the Judiciary Committee of the Senate is the author of that amendment, but not so the fact! It is only midwife to it. The author is the same mind that generated the "Firebrand Resolutions," of which I send you a copy, and of which the amendment is the legitimate derivation. Oregon is not the object. The most rabid propagandist of slavery cannot expect to plant it on the shores of the Pacific, in the latitude of Wisconsin and the Lake of the Woods. A home agitation, for election and disunion purposes, is all that is intended by thrusting this firebrand question into your bill! And at the next session, when it is thrust in again, we will scourge it out and pass your bill as it ought to be. I promise you this in the name of the South as well as the North, and the event will not deceive me. In the meantime the President will give you all the protection which existing laws and detachments of the army and navy will enable him to extend to you; and until Congress has time to act your friends must rely upon you to continue to govern yourselves, as you have heretofore done, under the provisions of your own voluntary compact, and with the justice, harmony and moderation which is due to your own character and to the honor of the American name.

I send you, by Shively, a copy of the bill of the late session, both as it passed the House of Representatives, and as proposed to be amended in the Senate. With the Senate's vote upon laying it on the table, and a copy of Mr. Calhoun's resolutions (posterior in date to the amendment, but, nevertheless, its father)—also a copy of your own provisional organic Act as printed by order of the Senate; all of which will put you completely in possession of the proceedings of Congress on your petition for a Territorial Government and for the protection and security of your rights.

In conclusion, I have to assure you, that the same spirit which has made me the friend of Oregon for thirty years—which led me to denounce the joint occupation treaty the day it was made, and to oppose its renewal in 1828, and to labor for its abrogation until it was terminated; the same spirit which led me to reveal the grand destiny of Oregon in articles written in 1818, and to support every measure for her benefit since—this same spirit still animate me, and will continue to do so while I live—which I hope will be long enough to see an emporium of Asiatic commerce at the mouth of your river, and a stream of Asiatic trade pouring into the valley of the Mississippi through the channel of Oregon.

Your friend and fellow citizen,

THOMAS H. BENTON.

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISING.—The VEDETTE is the largest newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in the mining camps and City of Montana and Idaho, which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) render it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.—During one of the recent gusts of wind which occurred frequently yesterday the large sign over the banking house of Hussey, Dahler & Co., on Main street, fell with a tremendous crash, carrying with it the fall about a dozen of bricks, which fell on the side-walk of the greatest thoroughfare in the city, and it was but a matter of accident that no one was injured. Fortunately there were but few passers-by at the time this was, no doubt, in consequence of the stormy weather which forced all to seek a shelter. This immense sign, which was some twenty feet long by three feet wide, was broken to "smitherins." The excitement ran down Main street with the rapidity of lightning, and quite a crowd gathered around, but soon dispersed on learning that nobody was hurt, and that it was only the bankers' sign that fell and broke. The bank is continuing business, confident that no storm could possibly break or fall and injure any one.

A GROW AFFAIR.—The individual named Grow, that fled to Camp Douglas and represented that he was ordered to leave the city, has turned out to be a perfect imposter. From the best authority we ascertain that his statements were all a base fabrication. His recent conduct has met with the universal condemnation of all good citizens; his last appearance on the streets being with a female (whom he claims as his wife) in male apparel, and hair cut short to resemble a man, should be sufficient to show that they are both crazy. Other circumstances connected with the affair, and reported to the authorities, establishes the fact.

DEPARTURES.—Among the departures for the East yesterday was Mr. E. Preble, a gentleman who has resided in this city for some time, and by his gentlemanly, kind and courteous conduct won for himself many friends who regret to part with him. Mr. P. left with the intention of making Omaha his home for a time. He was accompanied by an accomplished lady, who, while with us, was an ornament to the social circle in which she moved. They carry with them the best and kindest feelings of a host of friends.

A CHANCE—We noticed yesterday at the Bank Exchange, one of the best shots at a rifle we have seen for a long time. It is a rifle, and we were induced to depart from our rule against gambling by taking a shot. Mr. Gehr, at the cigar stand, takes considerable pains to explain its qualities, and the gentlemen at the bar are busy. If Gehr could win it, we don't expect to have any of the boys' bill to pay for some time, as it "kills" all kinds of game on sight.

THE STORM.—Yesterday was a day long to be remembered as the most inclement of the season. Strong winds prevailed from the north, and the drifting of snow, which fell in large quantities, rendered the traveling of the streets through our streets a matter of considerable difficulty.

LATER FROM.—San Francisco is at present in a state of much difficulty with regard to the Indians. Armed men are assembled on the hills, and by the dispatches from San Francisco, some apprehension exists of serious results. Some parties, notorious on such occasions, have been arrested by the police.

DEPARTURE.—Yesterday the coach for the East conveyed from us General P. E. Connor, who visits California on business. Many friends of the General wish him a pleasant trip and a speedy return, with all success he desires.

THE EXTENT OF THE STORM.—We learn that the storm, which visited us yestereay, has extended to a great distance west of us. The wires down between here and California, their last words written were, "terrible storm. Our work has stopped."

ANNIVERSARY.—The colored citizens of San Francisco, California, celebrated the fifty-eighth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln on the 12th inst., by an oration and ball.

NOTICE.—We are requested to state that there will be a meeting of Utah Lodge of F. & A. M., at their new Hall on Sunday at 10 o'clock.

FOR HANDS.—Maguire's Opera House in Virginia City, Nevada, has changed hands. Mr. Piper is now proprietor.

A CANDIDATE.—William T. Coleman is announced as a candidate for Governor of California by the Democrats of that State.

FOR SALE.—A good Horse, to work in single or saddle. Apply to

J. R. SUMNER,
Second Hand Store, Salt Lake City.

Wagons and Harness for sale by E. Archer, at the Pioneer Coal Yard, east of the station house. 3t

...French detective, is said to have done as follows:

A rich merchant went to him to consult on a deficit of 150,000 francs, which he had found on his books. He was deeply distressed.

"What is the age of your cashier?"

"Twenty-five. But I am as sure of him as I am of myself; he has also been robbed. He is a victim like myself."

"Are you married?"

"Yes."

"How old is your wife? Is she handsome? Is she honest?"

"Oh! yes. My wife is virtue itself—honorable, attached to me above—"

"Never mind all that. Your cashier is twenty-five. Is your wife handsome?"

"Since you insist upon knowing, she is handsome, but—"

"But! but! no matter about the buts. You wish to find your money, don't you; and you have confidence in me?"

"Of course, I have, since I am here."

"Very well, then; go back home—make believe that you are going on a journey and introduce me into the house."

This was done. The merchant left home, and Vidocq hid himself in the closet near the chamber of the lady. Breakfast was served; a young man was shown in, and addressed thus by Madame.

"Very well, Arthur; he is gone, but he suspects us."

The rival of Carpentier went over a long tirade of love and desolation, concluding with these words:

"Only one road is left open for us; let us take what is left and embark for—"

Vidocq stepped out of his place of concealment. Tableau!

"My children, be calm, or I'll break both of your heads," said Vidocq. "We understand each other, I suppose. Now, tell me, where is the stolen money?"

"We have only one hundred thousand francs left," replied the woman.

"Are you telling the truth?"

"Oh, I swear to it."

"Very well, give it to me."

The money was given over.

"Now, then, let this affair be forgotten; never speak of it to your husband, and he shall know nothing. As for you, sir, give me your delicate little thumbs."

He placed handcuffs on the gentleman, conducted him to Havre, put him on a ship bound for America, and left him with the French adieu: "Go hang yourself elsewhere."

Vidocq came to Paris and handed the one hundred thousand francs to the merchant, saying:

"Your cashier was the thief, but he had spent 50,000 francs of the money with a danseuse—I embarked him for New York."

Afterward, no happier family was ever known than that of the merchant.

HOW TO BREAK UP THE MORMON SYSTEM. A Mr. Richard Williams, who recently delivered a lecture on the "Great Basin," before the Historical Society of Buffalo, spoke of the Mormon population as follows:

There is one element among themselves that is troublesome. The general testimony of the Gentiles who have lived in intimate social relations with them, is that the young girls (to their honor be it said) are mostly disaffected. Growing up with it, they have seen the institution with all its abominations, and, opposed as it is to all their holier feelings and better instincts, no amount of spiritual thunder can entirely control them. Here, as everywhere, they are a privileged class, and cannot very well be whipped or imprisoned. Like most of the descendants of Eve they will rule, and are ever ready to elope with a Gentile who has the courage and can get away with them. They cannot marry a Gentile and remain peacefully at home. Very naturally, they prefer a whole Gentile to one tenth of a Mormon. The most effectual way of breaking up the whole system would be to send army of 10,000 unmarried men there, and protect every man who married and brought a Mormon woman to camp. We might, in this way, get rid of the nuisance without bloodshed, or incurring the odium of a religious persecution.

HORRID LOYALTY.—At Pine Bluff, Arkansas, in a paper called the Southern Vindicator, and this is the style in which the editor, John George Ryan he signs himself, vindicates what he says.

"I am not inclined to be an assassin, but if to destroy a tyrant is assassination, then I would destroy the tyrant. And it has been proved that President Lincoln was elected head and voluntary servant of the radicals, who purposed the destruction of the South, and, to a measure, succeeded in their hellish designs. I was opposed to and fought against Lincoln and his tyrants, and ever will."

"When the news of his death reached me, I rejoiced."

"When I learned that a man who never identified himself with the confederate cause, struck the tyrant low, I thanked God that he had selected an instrument from the heart of radicalism, right under the tyrant's guns, to deprive America of a radical tool."

"And when I laid down my arms, after a bloody struggle for independence, I thanked God from the bottom of my heart, that Abraham Lincoln did not live to mock our misery."

ANKER'S

ONE-PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

F Street,

SIGN OF THE GILT ANCHOR!

DENVER, COLORADO,

Is not the 'Largest,' but the MOST ELEGANT CLOTHING HOUSE in Colorado.

And from the East and to the West,
Are gentlemen dressed
In suits from Anker's Hall;
And none, as yet, was heard to regret
That he ever gave him a call.
He honestly deals,
And nothing conceals.
Regarding the wear of his clothes
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows,
Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep,
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho and Montana are at all times cordially invited to call at ANCHOR'S POPULAR CLOTHING HOUSE, when in Denver, and examine his most Elegant and Tasteful Stock of Goods, which will be sold at Prices Guaranteed Lower than the Lowest.
